The application of suction cups is an ancient therapeutic method that has been used by Traditional Chinese Medicine for more than 3,000 years.

Cupping, also known as cupping therapy, consists of placing glass elements (suction cups) on the skin. We eliminate the air inside it so that they suck the skin of the region to be treated. With this we get the pathogenic factor to go outside, we promote blood and energy circulation in the area, we eliminate obstructions and calm the pain. Very useful for treating muscle problems and pain.
